1.		Medium shot of an ultrasound tech.	We hear the sound waves pulsating back and forth from the ultrasound. Ultrasound Tech: “And there’s your beautiful baby.”
2.		Close up of the monitor and we see the baby.	Ultrasound tech: “Any day now!”
3.		Close up of the mother’s emotional state – a mix of anticipation and joy.	The tender moment is disrupted by the obnoxious crunching sound of Doritos, off camera.
4.		Medium shot to include the wife and husband with his bag of Doritos.	Mom: “Really? You’re eating Doritos?”
5.		Wide shot to include the ultrasound tech, the mother-to-be, father-to-be and the Doritos.	Mom: “He’s eating Doritos at my ultrasound...” Then she whispers in the way people do when they are beyond irritated, “Do you see what I have to deal with?”
6.		Close up of the monitor where we see the baby reacting to the Doritos. The father starts moving his hand back and forth, back and forth, causing the baby to kick inside the mother.	Ultrasound tech: “I know.”
7.		Wide shot so we can see the father’s hand gestures causing the baby to move, causing the mom to be in pain.	We hear the humming noise of the ultrasound and the chuckles of the father. Mom: “Ow! Give me that.”
8.		Wide shot to reveal the reaction of the ultrasound tech, the father, the mother, and the baby after the chip is thrown across the room.	Mom tosses the chip across the room. We hear it hit the floor.

9.		Close up shot of the mom who is feeling the instant reaction of her baby going after the Doritos!	The mom screams out in a sound reserved for women in labor.
10.		Medium shot to include the mom and the ultrasound tech screaming in unison at the sudden turn of events.	Women screaming
11.		Medium shot – the father (still hanging on to his bag of Doritos) looks as though he sees the baby coming out. So he screams, too.	Three people screaming in unison.
